

General Maintenance & Repairs

At TaylorMade our dedicated team of engineers undertake maintenance and repair of virtually every type of industrial, commercial and security door. An essential part of the division's activities is the Emergency Service which operates 24/7 it's as simple as that. Customers can be absolutely assured of a positive response to their needs for an emergency repair at any hour of the day or night 24/7.

Securing your property is our business.

We know that when you have a problem in your business you need help at hand ASAP which is why our dedicated team of engineers are here to secure your business or property and undertake any repairs at the earliest convenience .