

Security Steel Hinge Doors

Security steel hinge doors are designed for the ultimate closure of an access opening with limited or low head room

These doors are TaylorMade to your requirements

The operations of these doors are manual push and pull to close automatic closers can also be fitted.

Construction British made in are own work shop

40mm x 40mm x 3mm cold rolled box section frame seam welded with inner frame work with centre bars for maximum support with 2mm sheet steel fully seam welded into place forming a front and back cover face panels 40mm security lip to minimise attempts to pry open

Installation: removal of existing door or doors new security frame work placed into its opening, shims used to centre raw bolts to secure, placement of door blades securing to hinged frame work all gaps levelled locking devise centred and tested

All security steel hinge doors can be colour coded to suit your buildings colour scheme or the environment placement.

Colour coating: galvanised, powder coated, or sprayed finish to withstand and help protect against corrosion when placed in the out elements

